ROUGH ROAD FOR TROTTERS. Coast Boy Shows Rare Speed on the Drive Tar Tarter a Winner.

A crowd of disappointed pleasure seekers drove to Speedway Park yesterday morning. Instead of a smooth firm surface ready for fast driving the visitors found a surface resembling a corduroy road. Had the harrows and road implements been put at work on Saturday late in the afternoon when the drop in the temperature was impending the road drivers would have had a fine course yester-

After the sun had thawed the surface the lower stretch was in fair condition, and here those who had waited made merry. George Huber had a new candidate for honors in Lottie Pandit. Another new comer was the troting filly Nelly Worthy, 2:28, by Axworthy, 2:1517, driven by George W. Archer. baby performers were sent several brushes against each other and the score stood about even when both were headed for home.

Dennis Mahoney was on hand with the black pacer Coast Boy, 2:10½. The veteran could step over the bumps almost as fast as if the course was made to order, and the owner regretted there was not something to make his favorite stretch his neck. G. W. Gwirz, driving the trotter Red Bee, 2:13%, did try, but Coast Boy cut out the work so fast that Red Bee was carried from his stride. Later Red Bee was sent to join Lottie Pandit and Nelly Worthy in one brush, and of course and Nelly Worthy in one brush, and of course he easily finished in front.

As the sun warmed the surface the sport increased. George W. Archer arrived with Lady Direct, 2:15½, and George Huber returned to watch the sport himself, Mrs. Buber with him. S. T. De Lee drove the chestnut pacer Leo T., 2:10½, and finished in ding doing lashion with the bay trotter Ravenswood. Then Leo T. and Lady Direct had a keen Brush. Mr. De Lee had a companion beside him, but Leo T. held the lead in spite of the handicap until nearly to the finish. Here Lady Direct came strong and assumed the lead, winning easily.

The once famous outlaw pacer Tar Tarter, 2:13½, driven by John Baird, was a prominent figure in the sport. Tar Tarter and his owner arrived early and his winnings were mostly over horses that he outclassed. Mr. Archer was anxious to get a brush for Lady

TIMELY BOXING TALK.

Young Corbett's Condition Is the Source of Much Concern to His Local Friends.

Local followers of the boxing game are somewhat puzzled just how to place their money on the bout between Young Corbett and Aurelia Herrera, the Mexican, which is to be held at Los Angles next Friday night. It is a question of condition, and both Corbett and Herrera are noted for their aversion to hard and faithful training. It was because Mexican was very lax in his labors that British golf champions are coming our way he was beaten by Battling Nelson. Had he he is primed for a hard, gruelling battle. FROZEN GAME MARKET.

How Deer, Moose and Caribon Are Kept All Winter in Alaska.

From the San Francisco Chroniele, e world's most unique game market is in Fairbanks, Alaska, close to the Arctic Circle, and in common with other communities in the valley of the Yukon has an average mean temperature of about 10 degrees below zero during the months of November, December, Tonne January, February and March. during the long winter season the thermometer goes as low as 75 degrees below zero.

The Territorial game laws provide that during the interval from January 1 to October 1, but that the carcasses of any of these animals killed between October 1 and January I may be marketed up to March I. Consequently the hunting of the big game that abounds in this part of Alaska begins at about the time cold weather sets in. At this season the game is in the best of condition. The hunters that go into the bring down all sorts of game and the practice to dispose of to the game market
